Double Accreditations win Endorses BAUER Credentials

BAUER Technologies has been awarded a duo of accreditations – Building Confidence and Utilities Vendor Data Base (UVDB) Verify – by Achilles following a comprehensive audit of its operations, systems and business practices.

Rapidly becoming the benchmark standard for supplier excellence, Building Confidence provides buyers and suppliers of BAUER's services a number of benefits, including increased operational efficiencies and reduced costs typically associated with pre-qualification. Regular on-site audits ensure BAUER can constantly measure its performance and with this data shared with its customers, instil confidence and reassurance of the success of their future working partnership.

BAUERS' success in achieving UVDB Verify accreditation, a service which enables members to pre-qualify and market their business to an entire industry sector, through a single questionnaire, further endorses its commitment to health and safety, the environment and quality standards through the provision of independent assessment and benchmarking, to endorse its credibility in the construction sector.

Commenting on the receiving of these two accreditations BAUER's Managing Director, Michael Jones said: "These accreditations are excellent news for BAUER, as they independently endorse the very high standards we operate within the company, as well as providing the motivation to ensure these high standards are maintained. The size, nature and often complexity of projects we tender for demand the very best levels of service and business operation and these accreditations provide an excellent reference of our capabilities, which means customers can be confident working with us."
